ecoscience Eco Science

Thank you to everyone for recycling their bottle lids. This week all of your lids were taken to Lush to be recycled! The children have also been busy creating wonderful posters to help Ashburnham recycle their waste correctly. Thank you to the children that brought in posters. It has also been an exciting week for Science this week. Year 3 have been having lots of fun experimenting with friction as part of their Forces unit, designing their own experiments and testing their predictions in and outside of the classroom. Year 4 have also had an electric start to their Electricity unit this term, getting hands on in the classroom whilst designing and testing their circuits.

This week has been jam-packed: everyone had shiny teeth and combed hair as yesterday was school photos. On a school-related note, Y5 did so much in their non-chronological Viking reports that they felt like they were actual Vikings! WOW! Also they went on a Foster and Partners trip- how exciting!. The NSPCC came and did a workshop for Y5 and Y6. It taught us to be safe and to always tell an adult. Have a great weekend!
